DESCRIPTION	The New Britain gifted and talented program, in operation since 1977, identifies both gifted and talented students K-12. The elementary program is after-school enrichment and focuses on higher-level thinking and advanced research skills. The middle school program is an all-day pull-out program one day a week and involves small group activities and self-selected seminars. The high school program consists of four independent study courses: language arts, social science, math and science. Talented students in the visual and performing arts are mentored and have weekly instruction sessions with visiting artists.
