INTRODUCTION

The Connecticut Special Education Parent Survey is the continuation of an ongoing collaborative effort between the Bureau of Special Education and the Connecticut Parent Work Group to collect information on family satisfaction and parents' involvement in their child's special education program.<sup>1</sup> The 2014-15 survey was sent to 18,634 parents of children receiving special education services, ages 3 through 21, across 56 school districts.<sup>2</sup> A total of 3,965 surveys were returned, representing a response rate of 21.3%. The survey is in its tenth year, with the 2014-15 school year marking the first year of a new three-year survey cohort cycle. The survey continues to serve as the chief instrument for collecting parent involvement data for Indicator 8 of the state's IDEA Part B State Performance Plan (SPP).<sup>3</sup>

PURPOSE OF THIS REPORT

The purpose of this report is to provide survey results for the Granby Nexus District in an easy-to-use format.<sup>4</sup> The intent is to highlight potential areas of strength for your district and areas that may need improvement. Your district's survey results, especially when used in conjunction with other data at your disposal, can provide insightful information for use in decision-making and improvement planning. A few tips for reviewing your survey data include the following:

- Use the survey delivery and response statistics to set the context of your data.
- Review the "total agreement" by survey item to get a general sense of how well your district is doing in each of the six topic areas of the survey.
- Contrast "total agreement" with "high-level agreement" in order to identify survey items where the total percentage may include a sizable lukewarm response (i.e., slightly agree).
- Examine parents' comments for areas of satisfaction, areas of concern, and suggested improvement steps.
- Consider how your district's results compare to the overall statewide results.

<sup>1</sup> The Parent Work Group is a statewide stakeholder group that examines parent involvement data as an indicator of parent satisfaction for annual reporting to the Office of Special Education Programs.

<sup>2</sup> In the majority (n=45) of districts, surveys were sent to all parents of children receiving services. However, in 11 districts, a simple random sample of students was selected. (See Appendix B.1 for more information.)

<sup>3</sup> SPP Indicator 8 measures the percent of parents with a child receiving special education services who report that schools facilitated parent involvement as a means of improving services and results for children with disabilities. Survey item 10 is the primary measure for this indicator.

<sup>4</sup> The 2014-15 Connecticut Special Education Parent Survey Statewide Report will be available on the Department website in early 2016.

SECTION I: SURVEY DELIVERY AND RESPONSE

In August 2015, the 2014-15 Connecticut Special Education Parent Survey was distributed to parents of children with an Individualized Education Program (IEP) or Services Plan. Parents were mailed a survey packet, with some parents also receiving an email about the survey. All materials were available in English and Spanish, and the survey could be completed on paper or online. The survey deadline was September 18, 2015. The following graphics provide survey delivery and response statistics for the Granby Nexus District.

SECTION II: SURVEY RESULTS

The 2014-15 survey included 38 items that asked parents to rate on a 6-point scale from “strongly disagree” to “strongly agree” their experiences with their child’s special education program over the past 12 months.<sup>5</sup> The following tables include bar charts that illustrate parents’ “high level of agreement” (i.e., strongly agree and moderately agree), as well as a column with the percentage to express “total agreement” (i.e., plus slightly agree). Only the agreement response options are included to allow for a quick visual comparison across survey items; however, all response options for the Granby Nexus District are included in Appendix A.1.

SECTION III: PARENT COMMENTS

An open-ended section at the end of the survey asked parents to comment on their overall experience with their child’s special education program. Of the 55 surveys completed by parents in the Granby Nexus District, 40.0% (n=22) included written comments. The comments were classified according to a 4-point rubric: “1” if the comment conveyed complete dissatisfaction; “2” if mostly dissatisfied; “3” if mostly satisfied; and “4” if the comment conveyed complete satisfaction. The breakout along the 4-point rubric is provided below, followed by examples of parents’ feedback.<sup>6</sup>

COMMENTS EXPRESSING SATISFACTION

- The Granby school system has provided amazing special education services for my boy. I have never had to fight for services.
- Granby school system has done a great job for my child. He had appropriate services for most of the time he was in the program. He is now in a very good transition program and is thriving. We hope that he will continue on this positive path and find gainful employment.
- Everyone is very helpful and easy to reach when I have concerns or questions. I know my son would struggle much more without all the help he receives.
- When we lived in another district, they were very difficult to work with regarding our child's needs. We moved to Granby and we could not be happier with the schools. We are very pleased to have such great support from the town.
- Overall, I am happy with the education portion of my child's education. Our school system is amazing and I generally feel that communication between the educators and myself is very good.
- We have been pleased with the special education program in my child's school. I feel that they have heard our concerns and opinions. I feel like they truly do want my child to succeed.

COMMENTS EXPRESSING DISSATISFACTION

- When they reach the high school level, they fall through the cracks. They are pushed through school but not encouraged to go forward into college. You always have to stay on the school to make sure they are doing their job.
- We have been thoroughly disappointed by the experiences we have had with the Granby School District regarding our daughter and her programming needs. We have been at odds with the district and her team when it comes to how best to proceed. Our district has fought us on any specialists we attempted to bring to the table, as well as refused our right to an IEE several times in the past few years. We find ourselves exhausted, upset and very disappointed in our district, and as we enter another year, we have little to no faith that her full needs are being met by the district.
- The coordination of the IEP by his teachers is severely lacking. If my wife and I didn't follow-up and insist that the teachers allow the students to use the tools and techniques as required in the IEP to enhance their learning abilities then the teachers ignore them. The first month of every school year is spent making sure the teachers are doing their job for their students with IEP-mandated learning tools and techniques.
- Our district needs more OTs, PTs and speech pathologists to meet the needs of our children. We also need more TAs to meet needs.

<sup>6</sup> Comments are reported verbatim with the following exceptions: 1) comments received in Spanish were translated; 2) silent corrections were made to improve readability; and 3) all identifying information was removed to maintain respondent confidentiality. In some cases, multiple excerpts may have been taken from one or more respondents' comments.

- The IEP doesn't get implemented until the school has their feet held to the fire. The IEP is a great document when developed correctly and then followed.
- Inclusion for the classroom should mean that the children with special needs are socializing with their peers during unstructured times. We need to teach our students how to start and sustain conversations/play with the special needs individual. We also need to teach the special needs child how to appropriately initiate and sustain conversations and play. Until we do this, our classrooms are not truly inclusive. We simply have classrooms with special needs children in them.

APPENDIX A.2: GRANBY BOX-AND-WHISKER CHARTS

The following box-and-whisker charts provide a visual snapshot (by survey item) of your district's mean score relative to the mean score of all other districts participating in the survey.<sup>7</sup> The mean district score represents the average parent response scaled from 1="strongly disagree" to 6="strongly agree."<sup>8</sup> An illustration of how to interpret your box-and-whisker charts is provided in the following diagram. A box for each survey item contains the middle 50% of districts and the median (middle) district score is represented by a black line within the box.<sup>9</sup> The "whiskers" on the box represent the minimum and maximum mean scores across all districts and your individual district is represented by a round dot (●). Thus, if your mean district score was inside the box, it would be considered an average rating; if your mean district score was in the lower "whisker," it would be considered a below average rating; and if your mean district score was in the upper "whisker," it would be considered an above average rating. Mean district scores were not calculated when five or fewer respondents in the district answered an item. If this was true of your district, a round dot (●) will be missing for those items.<sup>10</sup>

How to Interpret Your Box-and-Whisker Chart

□ Contains the middle 50% of mean district scores on Question 1.

● Represents the mean score for your district on Question 1.

Result: The mean score for your district is below the mean score of the "middle" scoring district but is within the middle 50% of all mean district scores for this question.

Note: The mean district score represents the average response scaled from 1="strongly disagree" to 6="strongly agree."

<sup>7</sup> Survey responses from 11 districts were excluded due to the CSDE standard (n=20) for confidential reporting of district-level data.

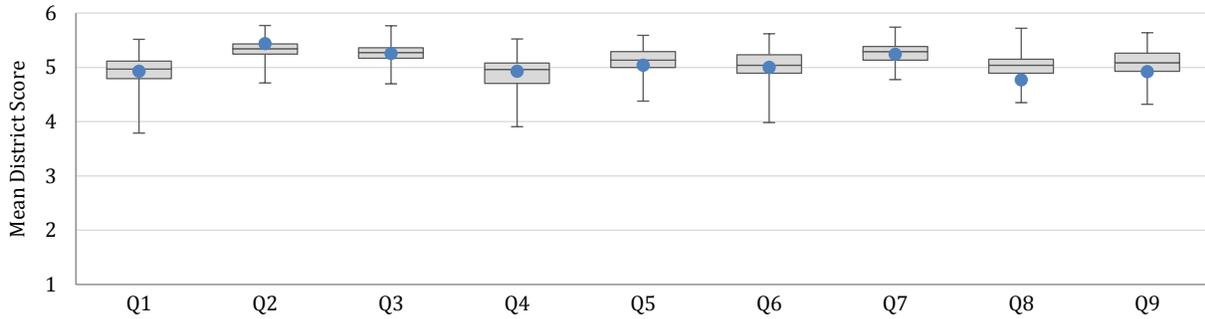

<sup>8</sup> The response option of "don't know" was not included in the calculation of the mean score, as there is no intuitive ordering for this response.

<sup>9</sup> Survey item 22 is negatively keyed (i.e., strongly agree is equivalent to a high level of dissatisfaction); therefore, this item was excluded from the analysis to maintain a consistent interpretation of mean scores.

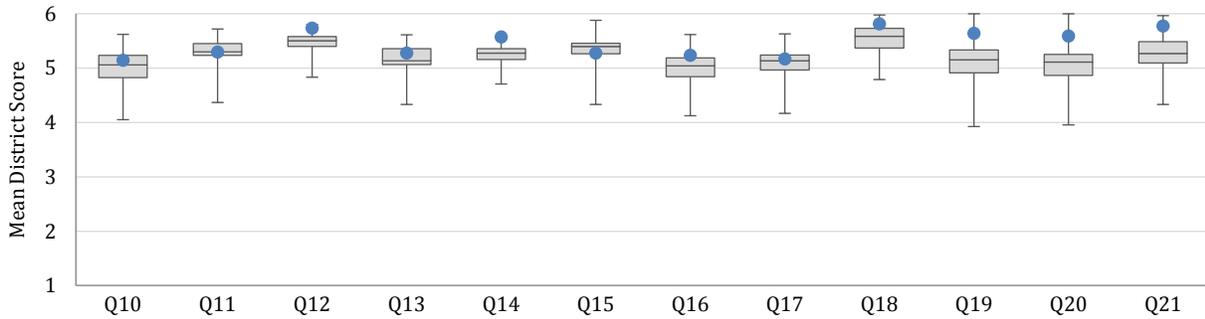

<sup>10</sup> A substantial number of districts had five or fewer respondents on the transition planning items. As a result, 15 districts were excluded from calculations for survey item 32 and seven districts were excluded from calculations for survey items 33-38.
